MAY IS PUBLIC RELATIONS MONTH

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

Multi sunt vocati, pавci vero electi.

Pres. Raffy Chan

Welcome to our 38th meeting for this Rotary Year.

We have actually had 37 regular meetings, two Grand Fellowships, two pseudo-meetings (special Cañao's)- which is why today's meeting is billed as Issue 41 in our club bulletin. Cancelled meetings are at a total of four (Christmas, New Year, Baguio Day and Discon). We will have the same meeting count of 47 this RY; same as in last RY 2005-07 (one more than the 46 meetings of last year).

Your president is now busy preparing for the club's Year-End Report. This early, AG Dan Torres has requested each Cluster-1C Club to list down (for submittal to Governor Owens) our major accomplishments for the year. I actually started my list last week and have over thirty items; but my projection is that our final list will show much more than this. You will get the "final tally" during our final meeting this RY.

We have just recently transmitted the Cañao issues for May as our final submittal/s for this year in the annual club bulletin contest. Our final count as far as number of issues (until April) is at forty issues.

We keep our fingers crossed with regard to this (winning an award for our Cañao) but are careful not to expect too much. Our full-colored front and back Cañao should fare quite-well at the district level; but it is not always our opinion that counts but how our handiwork is eventually appreciated by the leaders in our district.

In my mind, our club initiatives should not grind to a halt just because our current activities will no longer have a bearing in the yearly tally (relative to recognitions) of our district.

Our membership initiatives should continue even as we transition unto the next term. We have not been able to attain the minimum headcount of ten new members which we have set. But we should reconcile that recruitment of new members should be a continuing initiative; and not predicated against the Rotary Year (even if it is now ending). So I hope that we can still take further membership recruitment initiatives at present time.

As announced during our meeting last Saturday, our Third Grand Fellowship has been set for Saturday, 31 May 08. It is unfortunate that we will only have three (not the intended four) for this Rotary Year. But still, I am quite happy that we have been able to "restore" the fellowship-of-old. Something which our older members appreciate as the fun-meetings of our Rotary forebears.

For our new members: do make sure to attend with your spouse this important event; our special meeting for the year- which emphasize on fellowship. No speeches (almost) and no GHS; just pure get-together and camaraderie with our Rotary peers and Anns.

For the Third Grand fellowship, we will celebrate the birthdays and anniversaries of our Rotarians and Anns which occur during second semester (Jan to Jun). This promises to be quite a party!

Our Latin axiom for this week- Multi sunt vocati, pавci vero electi. Literally means: Many are called (but) few are chosen. The English translation is quite well-known and is always a good reconciling point on matters that affect many people (during their whole lifetime).

IN RETROSPECT

The Meeting That Was 26 April 08

PE Bert Talco

I was a few minutes late for the meeting last Saturday, 26 April 08. There were a lot of functions at Baguio Country Club and I have to park at the farthest end of the parking left. It was Ladies' Day and BCC Wolfson Room was already filled up when I entered the room just before the singing of the Rotary Hymn.

The Program Participants during this "historic" meeting were Dir. Dwight 'Ike' Dulnoan, the Program Coordinator; RAPP Coring Visperas, the Invocator; Rtn. Angie Visperas, for the Entertainment; PP Mike Pearson, for the Introduction of visiting Rotarians and guests; Treas. Marilyn Barredo, for the Finest Moment; PP Teop Rondez, for the Introduction of the Club Speaker; Rtn. Ping Paraan, the Club Speaker; VP Ben Ladilad, for the Response; and last but not the least, Pres. Raffy Chan, the Presiding Officer.

At exactly 12:30 in the afternoon, Pres. Raffy promptly called the meeting to order and after which Dir. Ike Dulnoan obliged Rotary Ann Past President Coring Visperas, to do the Invocation. The fervent singing of the "Pambansang Awit" followed and after which, everybody formed a circle for the singing of the Rotary Hymn.

While everybody was enjoying their sumptuous meal, Rtn. Angie Visperas called upon Mr. Glen Gaerlan, a prominent local Tenor, to entertain the group. Glen rendered a short concert by singing a number of Neopolitan Italian songs, namely: O Solo Mio, Mattinata, La Danza, Finiculi, Finicula, and La Dana E'mobile. It was a marvelous entertainment which placed everybody silently on their seats as they listened with awe.

Before giving due recognition to the personalities at the head table, PP Mike Pearson aptly introduced first the guests and the Rotary Anns. The guests were Mr. David Rees (Guest of Pres. Raffy), Mr. Alfred Ngaosi and Mr. Edison Viernes, (guests of EIC Dhory) and Mr. Glen Gaerlan (guest of Rtn. Angie). The Rotary Anns were RAPP Coring Visperas, RAPP Linda Valencia, RAPP Josie Chan, RAPP Mina Pearson, RAPP Araceli Ladilad, RAPP Emilie Paraan, RAPP Josie Pangilinan, RAPP Sally Khoeller and RAPP Bess Ursua.

For the Finest Moment, Treasurer and Incoming VP Marilyn Barredo took the chance to fine the Rotarians who has outstanding balances as far as fine is concerned. Every Ladies' day I see to it that I will be able to buy some raffle ticket because of their interesting prizes and because I usually go home with some of the prizes, but not this time, luck might have gone out as far as I am concerned. For the record, the winners during the raffle draw were RAPP Linda Valencia, RAPP Mina Pearson, RAPP Emilie Paraan, EIC Dhory, PP Helmut, PP Mike Pearson, VP Ben Ladilad, PP Roger Naz, Rtn. Chris Faelnar, PP Doming, RAPP Coring Visperas, Rtn. Jody Alabanza, PP Linda Winter, Treas. Marilyn, Mr. Alfred Ngaosi, and PP Teop Rondez.

At Members' Time, PP Linda and PP Mike expressed their gratitude for those who, in one way or another, helped them in the hosting of the Group Study Exchange (GSE) team from District 6980, Florida, USA. PE Bert on the other hand, prodded members, specially the Golf players to form a team and join the First leg of the Governor's Cup (Incoming Governor) on 10 May 08 at the Subic Golf Club.

At President's Time, Pres Raffy Chan presented through PowerPoint the directory of members and their spouses which he was working on. He obliged each member to look into the preliminary information in the loose sheet given to each member and give the necessary corrections before the finalization of the said directory. There were a lot of birthday and wedding anniversary celebrants but there were only two who were around to be accorded the members' greetings. A Happy Birthday greeting was accorded to RAPP Cely Ladiiad and Wedding Anniversary Greeting was for PP Mike and Mina Pearson. To wrap up President's Time, Pres. Raffy announced that the third Grand Fellowship night will be on the 31st of May 2008!

PP Teop Rondez "dramatically" introduced the Club Speaker of the day. He cited the various World War-n exploits of Rtn. Francisco 'Ping' A. Paraan, which are undoubtedly the reasons why he was selected as the speaker for the topic for the day, which was "The Liberation of Baguio".

The Quintessential Speaker, Bin. Ping Paraan, vividly narrated the historical liberation of the City of Baguio from the Japanese in World War-n. At his age of 91, our Club Speaker described point by point how the liberation of Baguio was planned and executed. He was then a member of the first battalion which consisted of 500 men which took part in the liberation. With teary eyes, he narrated his feelings when, on that historical day of 27 April 1945, he, together with an American officer, Steven, had set foot in Baguio, marking the City's Liberation from the Japanese. It was really a triumphant true to life story from a war veteran. To end his talk, Rtn. Ping reminded us that, though we were liberated from the war of 1945, we have still to liberate our City from the pressing present Battles. Battle against water shortage, expensive power rates, pestering traffic and pollution problems, stock pile of solid waste, over population, criminality and gambling and a lot more.

Interesting questions, addendums, comments and responses were entertained during the open forum. VP Ben Ladilad gave a brief but thorough response and expressed gratitude in behalf of the Club for a very informative talk.

"Pilipinas Kong Mahal" was sung with fervor before Pres. Raffy banged the gavel at exactly 2:45 PM to signify the end of another lively and fruitful afternoon of Rotary. Kudos to the program participants and to our guest entertainer for a job well done!

Dir. Ike, our Program Coordinator was watching PP Mike intensely while doing lots of adlib at the rostrum.

Very impressive entertainment rendered by our guest, Tenor Glen Gaerlan.

The BCC Wolfson room was filled with a good number of RCB Rotarians, Anns and guests.

What could possibly cause that frown on PP Roger's face? His lack of dancing partner for the day, I think.

Pres. Raffy excitedly presented his new project, the Members' Directory.

Our VP is back. Everybody thought he was the third speaker. Nonetheless, he gave a good Response.

Accept our sincerest gratitude Rtn. Ping, for your truly enriching and heartfelt speech.

FELLOWSHIP

Day I, 29 Mar 08

It was past 12:00 noon when the last patient for the morning was treated. The three of us: PP Diony, Rtn. Joey and I walked to the modestly appointed house of Mayor Bistoyang where lunch was being served. Upon entering the dining hall those who were there ahead welcomed us with shouts...

"Here come the playboys"!!!. wonder who, what were they talking about. A never ending plates of fresh water eel, vegetables, chicken, fish was served, walang sinabi ang mga high end restaurants, the mayor and his charming wife were very gracious and generous hosts. In between bites of food, laughter, what will Rtn. Chris Faelnar and his inimitable delivery of jokes. Now, do not ask me who, what were said about of who, what and who! You should have been there.

It was the same for the snacks, merienda time at the Senior Citizens Hall where camaraderie flowed with nibbles of young coconut, mangoes, rice cakes and sweet golden watermelons, again with Mayor Bistoyong joining the group. Speaking of countryside hospitality, it was more than, & beyond expectations, soothing aching limbs, that fatigue was totally forgotten.

The last of the evening patients attended to the mission drove to Amilongan. With Rtn. Joey at the wheel and PP Diony navigating and this writer recording, the SUV, our car passed thru winding, undulating partially cemented roads and after about 30 minutes we reached the Luzon Hydro Corp staff house where we were billeted for the night.

The Luzon Hydro Corp. staff house is a handsome two-storey reinforced concrete structure built on top of a hill bounded on the front by a boulder studded river more like a most protecting castles of old. A more apt description of this building would be a manor what with its classy very functional amenities, a large game room for table tennis and billiards, a social cum dining hall and to boot a video game area all on all on the first floor and 14 air conditioned spacious (5) five-star fully furnished guest rooms on the second floor.

Left of the manor is the hydro power plant itself. This complex is ably managed by the general manager, the "Lord of the Manor" himself Rtn. Chris Faelnar.

Fellowship, bonding between the Rotarians, rotakids, the students were in the air as they tried their athletic prowesses on the table tennis and billiards while cocktails over flowing with beverages and chips and green mangoes were served. This was followed by a very sumptuous buffet dinner at the social dining area while the video equipment, song books were prepared

"THE KARAOKE WARS"

The gusty, laughters continued as the karaoke enthusiasts fine tuned their voices and scanned the songbooks preparing for the evening's main event: "The Karaoke Wars" emceed by Rtn. Chris Faelnar.

Rtn. Chris brought out handsome jackets as prizes and the karaoke concert was on.

The evening was filled with the blending voices of the "Spice Girls" Maya Peralta, Linda Winter and Mia Cawed, there were the Men in Black, Chris Peralta and Chris Faelnar sans one member. Mia Cawed was a revelation as she dished out popular songs. There were howls of "protests" from those who thought they should have higher scores as they were more in "time and tune".

Well Diony and Chris Faelnar, Chris Peralta only managed scores of the mid 80s while a local bet with this screaming kamikaze dive bomber, rendition of "Delilah" netted him a 90+. Surprise! Surprise Marilyn Barredo, arms swaying up in the air, hips gyrating, feet jumping, her voice booming to a powerful 500 watts per channel was Madonna, Britney Spears, Beyonce all in one with her rendition of "Jumbo Laya", the scoreboard flashed 92!!! She got the jacket trophy. Undoubtedly Marilyn was the "Amilongan Idol."

It was Cinderella time when Diony Claridad sweetly crooned "Good Night Ladies."

Oh me? Wow!wow! Oh Baby! It was a night to remember!

Next -Till We Meet Again

THE LIBERATION OF BAGUIO

Rtn. Francisco A. Paraan

When Angie asked me to speak on the Liberation of Baguio, I immediately accepted because I would be espousing the cause of veteranism....that veterans should be remembered and not forgotten. Most of you were not yet born in 1941-1945 so I will not deal into the gory details nor describe the horrors of war. You, except Teof and Jack, may not appreciate it anyway.

Rather, let me give you a background of this memorable event. On 09 January 1945, after the largest flotilla of ships, second only to Leyte in the Pacific campaign, delivered a devastating barrage of firepower, 70,000 soldiers landed in Lingayen Gulf. MacArthur have returned... but upon reaching the beaches there were no Japanese... a crowd of flag-bearing Filipinos and guerrillas met him... the Japanese had fled south and to the Zambales mountains.

MacArthur, bent on rescuing the American refugees and soldiers held as prisoners of war in Cabanatuan, Los Banos and the University of Santo Tomas, pressed aggressively south. The massacre of 150 American POW in Palawan who were herded into a tunnel...barrels of gasoline were emptied into the tunnel and then ignited, killing all except seven who escaped thru a small opening at the end of the tunnel and scaled down the cliff to the beach on the Pacific coast. This inflamed the invading troops to drive to Manila in a fast and furious pace.

MacArthur needed all the troops he could get in his drive to Manila. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, aware of the superior firepower of the Americans, decided to leave open the way to Manila with only token troops to oppose MacArthur...leaving the defense of the city to Admiral Sanji who was responsible for the death of 100,000 civilians.

Yamashita with his 30,000 men went to Baguio, the gateway to the Cordilleras establishing his headquarters at Camp John Hay. He then installed strong defense points at Kennon, Mt. Trail and at Irisan gorge, Naguillian Road. His ultimate plan, if overcome in Baguio, was to hole up in Tuccucan, Kiangan for his final defense where he finally surrendered 15 August 1945.

At about that time our fully organized and equipped guerrilla unit of 25,000 men previously supplied arms, ammunition, equipment and supplies by submarine at Darigayos, Luna, and airdrops at Bokod, was attached to the 8th Army under Gen. Krueger.

The USAFIP-NL consisted of the 11th Inf. from Cagayan, 14th Inf. from Nueva Viscaya and Ifugao, the 15th Inf from Ilocos Sur and Ilocos Norte, the 121st Inf from La Union and your own 66th Inf from Baguio and Benguet.

As executive officer, I commanded the 1st Bn, 66th Inf (400-500 men) move up the Naguillian Road to Baguio. Two other battalions were to push through Asin Road from Tubao, Ansgagan and Kennon Road. A third unit was to harass the enemy escaping to the Cordilleras...

Meantime, Japanese troops were densely concentrated at Easter School, John Hay, Country Club, Cabinet Hill, Home Sweet Home, Heald Lumber, Pacdal Elementary School, and Benguet Auto Line and in scattered homes of Baguio residents all over the city in pairs, threes, fours or more. Their whereabouts were reported to us by residents which information was relayed to the 8th Army who decided to carpet-bomb the city first before the infantry and armored tanks start the assault towards Baguio.

The converging units drove towards the city simultaneously. The Japanese repulsed us all the way with machine gun and mortar fire from caves hewn on strategic hills up to the heavily defended Irisan gorge where troops were pinned down by intense shelling from mountain guns, mortar and machine gun fire emplaced at Dominican Hill, Mirador and Quezon Hill. Two American tanks were hit by anti-tank fire at Lamtang bridge and pushed into the Irisan River. A fierce firefight ensued as we crept up the road to capture the high grounds above Irisan. A water shortage delayed the advance. But the Commanding General ordered a halt on April 26th. He decided that entering Baguio the next day, April 27th, the emperor's birthday, would produce a psychological impact on the enemy.

Dawn next day, led by armored tanks, we were the first troops to enter Baguio. Opposition was slight. Lt. Esteban and I paused at the checkpoint and alighted from our jeep and bent down to touch the ground in tears. I could not describe that feeling of being part in liberating the city where we were born. We then rushed to the Cathedral having brought with us personnel carrier loaded with C-rations and medicine contributed by the men of the battalion. Abanao and Session Road were almost deserted. People still covered in their make-shift hovels around the cathedral grounds.

Esteban and I had to shout, "Rumuwar kayon, awan ti guerran." Suddenly, a man popped out of a bomb crater covered with wood planks, Pinong Pugal my high school classmate, saw me and started jumping and shouting, "Adda ni Ping! Na libre ti Baguion!" (Ping is here, Baguio is free). With people around us jumping with joy and crying, Esteban and I were mobbed, hugged, kissed.... In no time at all, the food and medicine carrier was emptied. I gave a box of Camel cigarettes to Pinong who kept shouting, waving the carton of Camel cigarettes over his head. My mother, dirty, disheveled, barefooted, and in tears, arrived later...we embraced... We had to leave after awhile to heed a call for help from an American soldier...to flush out Japanese rear-guard soldiers entrenched in caves at the Leonard Wood Road, Mines View-Antamok Road Junction. They were coming out in streams from three caves and taking firing positions behind the stone-paved hedge and shooting at us. We also ducked behind the hedge opposite about 50 yards from each other. Later, when a flame-thrower started to flush them out from their caves with napalm, they started to run...it was like shooting ducks. Tanks arrived to chase them towards Tuding and Itogon.

Our battalion headquartered at the Plaza Hotel of the Versozas for two weeks...a much-welcome and needed rest...to report later to Suyo, Ilocos Sur in preparation for the Battle in the Clouds at Bessang Pass, Lepanto, Mankayan, KP90, Loo Valley and finally Badayan, Buguias where we had our last battle. The "Ceasefire Orders" came 15 August 1945.

I could go on and on, on the battle for North Luzon...we came home after 4 years finding that the fruits of victory are not ours. We thought the war is over. NO.

The battle continues even now... the Battle of the Housewives... the battle for garbage disposal for one is on...if the city cannot handle it...give the job to recycling firms who can produce recycled products to be used by the community as they do in Guam.

The battle over water shortage...surely, the 100 miles of Benguet's mine tunnels (maybe about 60 miles now) filled with water which can be purified thru osmosis can help provide much-needed water during the summer months. The Baguio Water District should pursue its pending negotiation with Benguet Corp. The club might invite their spokesmen to present their respective stands on the matter.

The battle of the plastic bags...I donated shopping bags for our raffle to dramatize this battle. Emilie and I opened three kitchen cabinets a month ago...to find them overflowing with crumpled plastic bags. It took us more than an hour to flatten them out and fold into small triangular shapes for storage...the rest we discarded in our waste disposal receptacle.

The battle for power...electricity...we need cheaper power, alternatives for power, safer wire connections unlike the spaghetti wirings which may have contributed to the last three fires in Baguio.

The battle on traffic congestion...eliminating colorum vehicles is necessary to relieve congestion, more traffic signal lights, installing more road stop signs, yellow lines and strict enforcement of observance of the same...but more than physical signs, equipment and enforcement...strict observance of discipline and courtesy by both drivers and pedestrians... is mandatory.

If you let my sister speak she can tell you a litany of battles in this congested city of ours.

Finally, thank you for this opportunity to speak before you, I just wish to convey the message from war veterans to please remember them and the cause they fought for....we are being forgotten, ignored and most have not received the benefits due us for the last 67 years.
